It doesn't matter whether you are a start-up or a large enterprise, we all operate in a fast moving and digital world, but then... you need a new business account and you experience this.

Businesses typically face a number of challenges with traditional bank accounts:

Lengthy Onboarding

Traditional banks have complex onboarding with extensive paperwork, in-person visits, and slow approval times. Opening accounts for international businesses or startups is even harder due to strict compliance checks.

High fees & hidden costs

Traditional business accounts can have high fees, including monthly maintenance, transaction, wire transfer, and foreign exchange charges, along with additional costs for overdrafts, check processing, and cash deposits.

Poor Digital Experience

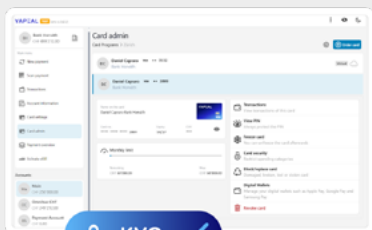

International transactions can take days, delaying cash flow. Limited business hours and poor customer support slow operations. Outdated online banking and clunky mobile apps hinder efficiency and integration.
